

Participation of Studio Navale at the Shortsea Shipping Days 2019

Athens, Yacht Club (NOE), on Thursday 13 June 2019

Studio Navale participates at the Shortsea Shipping Days 2019, one of the most important subsectors of maritime transport in EU, which will be held in Athens, at the Yacht Club (NOE), on Thursday 13 June 2019!

Shortsea Shipping Days 2019, a well-established conference, is organized on annual basis, focus on the latest developments of Shortsea Shipping in European level and the emerged trends and opportunities of the sector, while emphasizing the significant contribution of the shortsea fleets into the development of European economies. This year the venue is organized by the Hellenic Shortsea Shipowners Association.

New shipping regulations, with regard to the environmental protection, emerging markets within the Mediterranean basin and prospect improvement of the operation of Greek shiprepairs and shipconstruction sectors, are creating new challenges and business opportunities!

Shortsea Shipping Days constitutes a meeting point that brings together all actors of the supply chain to discuss on common problems and concerns, to present new solutions and share best practices in the maritime industry and the logistics.

Studio Navale will be there, along with important speakers and delegates, waiting for all business friends and colleagues to brainstorm against the future of the shortsea shipping, in the wake of which a significant part of the Greek Shipping Power is supported!
